NOTICE.

Stolen, or strayed from my plantation, on the 6th. of May, 1866, a large RED AND WHITE COW, with keen horns; she is marked with a smooth crop in the left ear, and a hole in the right. The cow is six years old, and has left a calf four weeks old.
I will pay a liberal reward for any information that will enable me to get her again. I live one mile from Morrisville depot.

A NEW PAPER.

I propose to commence, at an early day, the publication of a Daily Paper, in the City of Raleigh, to be called the "CITY INDEX." It will be published on the plan of a Penny paper but not quite so cheap, for the present. It will be delivered daily by Carriers, and must be paid for weekly.
The INDEX will be published as a news paper, and will have nothing to do with parties, politics or politicians. It will give the latest news, general and commercial; local and State items; poetry, anecdotes, marriages and deaths.
The terms of subscription and advertising will be put at the lowest notch, and will be published in the first issue of the paper.

WHO WANTS A PIANO?

SEVERAL Patrons of the Concord Female College have requested my aid in securing good for their use. This has induced me to make arrangements with some of the best manufacturers, which enable me to furnish instruments of the first class at reduced prices. I can save each purchaser from $10 to $100. Price lists of the manufacturers will be sent to those who desire them, to aid them in making selections.

When selections shall have been made the money can be sent to me at my expense, by the Southern Express, and a Piano will be shipped to the Depot the purchaser may designate. Each Piano sold will be fully warranted. Address me at Statesville, N. C.

TO THIS CELEBRATED SAFE was awarded the GOLD MEDAL, at the World's Fair in London, in 1851.

NOTICE.—This celebrated Fire Proof safe is no longer made and sold by SILAS C. HERRING, he license to make and sell them having expired.
The thousands of Certificates from Merchants, Bankers and Mechanics of all trades, that have been given in favor of this the only true "SALAMANDER" renders it useless for the subscribers to multiply words in its favor, as full thirty thousand of "WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES," have been manufactured and sold in the United States; and, in almost every large fire that has taken place during the last seventeen years, these Safes have been subjected to the severest tests, and not one of the 'Genuine Salamanders' has ever been destroyed.
Safes sold at New York price, with the freight to Wilmington added. No commission charged in Wilmington. We are prepared to take orders for these celebrated Safes. Samples can be seen at our office in a few days.

SALISBURY BRASS BAND

REORGANIZED 1st January, 1866, on a larger scale than formerly, under the direction of its former tutor, W. H. NEAVE, who was also chief music writer and Band Teacher in Gen. Lee's army. He will be assisted in leading in that direction by his brother, Ed. Neave, leader during the entire late war of Gen. Lee's best and most favorite band, viz: 4th N. C. The Band is composed of the best members of the old Band together with the best members of several of the fine Bands trained by W. H. Neave, in camps, who have moved to Salisbury from all points in the State to follow their respective vocations and continue the study and practice of music. This Band will be a permanent institution for all State and festive occasions, and will equal the best to be found in the world, if sustained by those desiring a fine order of Brass and String music; if not, it must go down after this year.
W. H. Neave is also agent for the celebrated Dodworth Brass instruments, proved and warranted to him, and by him to others; also, the most pleasing, effective and popular Piano music, selected by his friends, H. B. Dodworth and Kent Botsford, New York. For beginners, medium players, and advanced musicians, no trash for either.
Music composed and arranged to order for Parlor, Orchestral and Brass Band use for any kind and number of instruments.
Salisbury has been selected for Musical Headquarters for its central position.
N. B. Merchants of enquiry for musical information, but with no view to business with Mr. Neave or Band, must contain two postage stamps.

IN MEMORIAM.

THE LATE HON. GEO. E. BADGER.

Public Meeting.

Upon a short notice, a number of the members of the bar and of citizens assembled at the Court House, in Raleigh, on Saturday, the 12th inst., to give some expression to their feelings of regret, (and signify their respectful sympathy with his family,) at the decease of their distinguished fellow-citizen and professional brother, the late Hon. George E. Badger.

The Attorney General, Hon. Sion H. Rogers, stated the object of the meeting, and moved that Gov. Chas. Manly be called to the Chair, which motion was seconded by B. F. Moore, Esq., and unanimously carried.

Gov. Manly, upon taking the Chair, addressed the meeting substantially as follows:

Fellow Members of the Bar, and Fellow Citizens:—Had I the power and strength, intellectual and physical, in my present feeble state of health, to pronounce an eulogium on the life and character of the eminent citizen whose loss we have met to deplore, this would not be the place nor this the occasion to deliver it. Nevertheless, a long and intimate acquaintance with the deceased, commencing in boyhood; an association social, professional and political, and a friendship unbroken by a single cloud, and extending through a period of more than fifty years, enable me to say some things which I deem not inappropriate, and which, although they may not be very interesting, may be acceptable to some in this large and highly respectable auditory. My acquaintance with Mr. Badger commenced in the Summer of 1814, when we were both about 19 years of age. He was a native of Newbern, had studied law in the office of his distinguished kinsman John Stanly, and had come up to the Supreme Court for a license to practice. He obtained his license, and it is said that Chief Justice Taylor, being asked why the Court had licensed a minor to practice the law, replied that if the clients and people who knew him best chose to trust him with their business, he saw no reason why he should interpose to prevent them; moreover, that he was a youth of great promise, was poor and anxious to do something for a widowed mother and sisters.

On obtaining his license he returned to Newbern. On the 13th of April, 1816, he became 21 years old—in the summer of that year he was elected a member of the House of Commons for the town of Newbern, and took his seat. I remember well the position which he took and the sensation which he raised in that body. His extreme youth, his powers of debate, his flowing eloquence, his unrivalled command of language and the facility with which he mastered the business of legislation, filled everybody with wonder. He was like a meteor flashing through the House, and you might hear it whispered around, "Who is he?" "Where did he come from?" Though a beardless boy, he soon became possessed of great influence and power in that body.

During that winter Chief Justice Ruffin was a member of the Commons from Hillsboro', and was, during the session, elected a Judge of the Superior Courts. Being greatly impressed with the ability of Mr. Badger, and seeing in him, as by intuition, the germ of future greatness, he invited him to remove to Hillsboro' to take his briefs and papers and close his business in the Courts. He accepted the offer and was at once introduced to a very large practice, and soon attained eminence among the distinguished lawyers of that circuit.

In a few years he married a daughter of Gov. Turner, of Warren County, and settled in Louisburg.

It was on a Winter's night in December, I was there in attendance on the County Court of Franklin, and Mr. B. had invited the Bar and a number of other friends to pass a social evening at his house, when a special messenger, despatched from Raleigh, came rushing into the parlor with the news, wholly unlooked for by any of us, that Mr. B. had been elected by the General Assembly a Judge of the Superior Courts. At that day the election of a Judge meant something. The election of one so young was without precedent.

He continued on the Bench but a short time. While there, however, he was a model of a Judge; diligent, firm, just. Well instructed in his profession, he leaned on no member of the bar to help him with the law. Unambitious of popular applause, and never seeking mushroom popularity, the suitors before him of high or low degree, or rich or poor, occupied precisely the same platform, and no human being was ever known to charge him with partiality or undue leaning to any man. He sometimes became impatient and worried at the interminable and senseless examination and re-examination of witnesses, by some of the prosing lawyers of that day, when he would take the case himself, or, as the boys used to say with great delight, straighten himself in his stirrups, and take the reins in his own hands, examine the witnesses on both sides, and, in a few minutes, have the case standing on its true merits, to the utter astonishment of the laborious Counsel who expected to be at least a whole day in trying their suit.

He was so expert and fair in eviscerating the testimony on both sides, that it became quite a common practice for the best lawyers to submit their cases without argument.

This gave rise to the remark often repeated behind the bar, "if all our Judges were like that man, we should not have much need for lawyers in the Court House."

His wife, in a few years, died, and allured by the flattering prospects of a lucrative practice in the Courts, he resigned his seat upon the bench and settled here at the seat of government.

Here he married a daughter of the late Col. William Polk. She, after a few years, also died, when he marred the amiable and accomplished lady, whom you all know, and who now survives him. Such is a brief epitome of his domestic life.

Here, at the seat of government, has been the threatre of his public career. As a practising lawyer for many years on the Circuit, in the Supreme Court and in the Federal Court, he has stood confessedly at the head of his profession. He was a great lawyer in all the attributes that make up such a character. Profound in legal lore, deferential and polite before the Courts, where he practised, kind and civil to his brethren, he was a universal "favorite," and particularly so with the junior members of the bar, to whom he was always ready with a helping hand or a side speech, when he found a poor fellow staggering and floundering under the merciless blows of a more experienced antagonist.

He was the most eloquent man I ever listened to. Chaste in his language, the purest English, without an effort, flowed in mellifluent streams; or when occasion required it, bursted forth in torrents. Calm, dignified and deliberate in his enunciation and delivery, there was neither rant nor bluster in his voice nor gesture; his voice never elevated above the ordinary pitch to be distinctly heard. His subject was so thoroughly analyzed and explained that when he sat down his listeners would exclaim, after a long breath, "well, that's sufficient, there is nothing else to be said."

He rarely indulged in invective or reproach, but sometimes, when a case of extreme enormity was presented, or he had to disembowel a perjured witness, his withering anathemas were perfectly consuming. Woe then to the caitiff on whom were poured the vials of his wrath!

He was a politician, too, but wholly exempt from malignity or party rancor. He was a Whig of the old school, and engaged heartily, at different periods, in advocating the claims of Harrison and Clay to the Presidency. He made many speeches and addresses before the people, and was invited and sent for in various parts of the State for this purpose. He was ready at all times to make a speech, but could rarely be prevailed on to write. The labor of writing was onerous and painful to him. It was only when he could be furnished with an amanuensis that he could be induced to commit his thoughts to paper. Perhaps the greatest effort of his political life was the preparation of a pamphlet giving the life and services of Gen. William H. Harrison, and furnishing arguments and appeals to the people why he should be elected. I remember going to his office a hot Summer's day and finding him and our lamented friend H. W. Miller with their coats off; Badger pacing the floor and thundering out a speech to Miller, while he was taking down, with all speed, notes and snatches of what he could pick up. Well, the work was carefully prepared, written out and published, making a large pamphlet. It was distributed to all parts of the State, copies sent to Gen. Harrison's friends, who had it reprinted and distributed through the Western and Southern States. It was regarded as the great campaign paper of the day, and was supposed to have contributed greatly to the success of the cause. Gen. Harrison was elected, and Mr. Badger was invited by him to become a member of his Cabinet.—He accepted the invitation and was appointed Secretary of the Navy, and continued in the office till near the close of that Presidential term, with great credit to himself and usefulness to the country.

He was soon thereafter elected by our Legislature a Senator in the Congress of the United States. Of his position in that body, and in the Supreme Court of the United States, it is not necessary for me to say anything. It is part of the history of the country. Suffice it to say, that he stood in either forum, shoulder to shoulder with the tallest and strongest of the giants who were there in those days.

But I forbear. I have said already more than I intended when I began, and have only to add, "peace to the ashes of a great and good man!"

On motion of Quentin Busbee, Esq., Ed. Graham Haywood, Esq., was requested to act as Secretary

B. F. Moore, Esq., then moved, that a committee of five be appointed by the Chair to draft appropriate resolutions for the action of the meeting.

Which motion having been put by the Chair, was unanimously carried.

The Chair then appointed Mr. Moore, Gov. Bragg, Mr. Lassiter, Mr. Mason and Mr. Kemp P. Battle, the Committee.

The Committee then retired for a few moments, when they returned, and through their Chairman, Mr. Moore, reported the following resolutions, viz:

WHEREAS, It hath pleased Divine Providence to take from among us our much honored fellow citizen and friend, the Hon. George E. Badger, it is due alike to his distinguished position in society, and our deep sense of the loss we have sustained, to give a public expression to our feelings.

Therefore, Resolved, That by the death of Mr. Badger, we are profoundly sensible the community, State and country have been deprived of one who, most loved and respected in life, will also be long mourned and revered by his friends and an admiring public.

Resolved, That in the native strength and enlightened culture of his mind, in his profound and extensive knowledge of law, in his upright and faithful public service, and in his just and generous sentiments and tried virtues, we have ever found the gentleman, jurist, statesman and christian, whose example will be valued so long as his fame and his character shall be remembered.

Resolved, That the members of the bar now present be requested, in respectful and affectionate acknowledgement of his kind and considerate treatment of his juniors, and his courtesy to all, to wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That we tender to his afflicted family our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy in this bereavement, and that the Chairman transmit a copy of these resolutions to them, and have the proceedings of this meeting inserted in the newspapers of the city.

After the reading of the resolutions, Mr. Moore addressed the meeting, as follows:

I shall make no extended remarks on the distinguished subject of the resolutions reported.

It was the happy fortune of my early life to become acquainted with Mr. Badger, at the house of my legal preceptor, where he spent a day or two. He was then a Judge on his circuit, and I a student at law. More than forty years have passed away, but the interesting occasion is still fresh in my memory. During the greater part of this bygone time we have met at the bar and in the walks of private life. It was indeed my happy fortune to make his acquaintance, but it was my still happier fortune to enjoy, at all times and almost ever since, his warm, intimate, unvaried and unreserved friendship. No occurrence has ever drawn the shade of a line between us.

I may justly claim, therefore, to have known him as perfectly as one man may know another.

For his very distinguished reputation at the bar, it is enough to say of him or any other man, that he was an Ajax among such members of the bar, as Seawell, Hogg, Nash and Gaston.

Besides being, in my judgment, the most accomplished legal logician I ever heard, he was one of the most eloquent of orators. In conversation the brilliancy and charms of his colloquial powers were dazzling and unrivalled.

In truth, Mr. Chairman, the very highest tribute which can be paid to the numerous distinguished merits of our departed brother and fellow citizen requires no sketch from the pencil of fancy. Without the aid of flattery, all may be said of him that can be reasonably said of the most gifted and excellent of men.

The resolutions express, truly, my appreciation of the qualities and character of my lamented friend; and, without another word, I might drop them, as my offering, on his tomb. But, as this assemblage is called together at the instance of the bar, I will use it to illustrate one trait of his character, for which he was pre-eminently distinguished. The illustration exhibits a degree of stern uprightness, which might serve as a chief ornament to the memory of any man, whatever might be his fame in all other greatness.

We all know that, notwithstanding every check and restraint, which education, habit and position can place around the heart amidst an interesting and exciting trial at law, the feelings of the advocate will lean,—and powerfully lean,—towards his client's cause; and it is seldom, indeed, that one, thus moved, can impartially present the full case for revision in a higher court, without addition to or subtraction from the true merits of both sides. Yet nothing was more common, where Mr. Badger was concerned as counsel, than to commit to his discretion the task of presenting the case for its final review.

The confidence was a proud tribute to his integrity; let it be our ambition to deserve it likewise!

Mr. Lassiter, in seconding the resolutions, remarked:

I desire to bear some humble part in offering the last testimonial of respect and affection to one who has for many years commanded so much of my admiration for his great talents, and for all those qualities that constitute excellence in human character. In many respects we never shall look upon his like again. This generation will pass away and no counterpart of him will arise to challenge comparison. This century will pass away, and the historian, who can adorn his pages with another, in all things the equal of this great man, may well be proud of his task, and deserve the congratulations of his countrymen.

North Carolina may well mourn the departure of one on whom she had delighted to bestow so much honor, and who so nobly filled every position to which she had assigned him.

The profession to which he belonged, and which regarded him as the standard of propriety, will unite in mourning the loss of such a man and such a mind. To the rarest powers of logic, he joined a discrimination that was never at fault; and so varied and rich were the stores of his mind, that one scarcely knew which to admire most,—the compactness and force of his argument, or the rhetorical grace and beauty with which he invested it.

This melancholy occurrence would, at any time, have produced the profoundest sensation in our midst, but, coming as it does, at a time when there is so much to burden and sicken the heart, it is peculiarly distressing.

I trust that the influence of his life and character will grow stronger and brighter with the flight of years; and, though dead, he may still survive by the beneficent influence he emitted whilst living.

His sun is set! A great luminary has been struck from the sky! There is a void which cannot be filled; and no where is this so deeply felt as in the family of which he was the head and ornament.

But there is a Power that can console in the greatest bereavements and trouble. Let us hope that the loving Father of all may succor, sustain and console them, in this their sore affliction.

Whereupon, the resolutions were put by the chair, and unanimously carried.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

THE LENGTH OF the proceedings of the Public Meeting, in honor of Mr. Badger, held in this City, on Saturday, exclude much matter that had been prepared for this issue. We could publish nothing, however, more grateful to public sentiment, we are sure, than such a tribute to the memory of the great man who has departed from our midst.

WE HAVE RECEIVED another communication from "Ohio." We have no objection to its spirit; but we repeat that we absolutely require all communications that seek a place in the Sentinel to be authenticated by the name and address of the writer,—not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Equalization of Bounties.

The press, generally, so far as our observation has extended, seem to have overlooked the insidious features of a bill recently introduced into the House of Representatives by JULIAN, of Indiana, (the same miscreant who indulged in that tirade of blasphemy and rage, to which we recently referred,) entitled a bill "for the equalization of bounties." The Secretary of the Treasury has avowed his unequivocal opposition to it, upon the ground that the amount contemplated to be dispensed by it,—two hundred millions of dollars,—will swamp the Treasury.

The bill proposes to "equalize bounties," i. e. to give to those who first enlisted in the service of the United States, during the late war, as much as was received by those that were later in the field. If we remember aright, the first received the sum of $200, and the last $400. In round numbers, the Northern armies, during the progress of the struggle, amounted to two millions of men,—most of whom, or the survivors of whom, have a vote. The equalization of bounties will, therefore, probably put into the hands of perhaps a million of Northern voters,—many of them of the lowest order and character,—two hundred dollars each, with the suggestion (to them) that "if the Southern members were admitted to Congress, all hopes of the $200 to each of you would be gone!"

We will not dwell upon the wrong of thus attempting to distribute, by law, and as a donation, $200,000,000 among Northern voters, which is to be charged to, and paid by, the South, in proportion to taxation, and that, too, while it is denied representation in the councils of the country or any voice in the assessment of its burdens. We desire to call attention, however, to the element of danger to the South and her interests that lurks beneath this most insidious scheme. It is no consideration of justice or regard for the soldiers, on the part of the Congress, that prompts this measure. It is a plan to bribe them to the support of their policy, and to foster hatred towards our unhappy people, upon the plea mentioned above, that the admission of their members to Congress would keep the money out of their pockets.

The South is thus not only made to pay the price of the overthrow of its armed resistance to the government, in discharging its relative proportion of the National debt,—which our people will do, with the best grace they may, or that could be expected from men similarly circumstanced,—but, also, the price of the continued and persistent denial of their rights under a restored Union! They are to pay for their own exclusion from the government; they are to forge the chains for their own limbs; they are to hire the headsman, and furnish the knife, for their own decapitation. Was there ever before, in the history of any country, or any people, or any age, so remorseless a faction as the Jacobins of our day, or so devoted a population as that of the South, if their work of ruin is not speedily arrested or thwarted?

Decorating Southern Graves.

The ultra Jacobin leaders and presses, not content with striving to make the people of the South recognize the negro as their equal and the Puritan as their master—not satisfied with seeking to compel them to submit uncomplainingly to the iniquity of taxation without representation,—have now turned, it seems, upon the women of the South. A late number of the New York Tribune has the following:

"We see in this decoration of rebel graves with flowers an effort to keep alive the political feeling of hostility to the Union and liberty which was embodied in the cause for which they fell, in whose honor these offerings are paid."

Are men becoming beasts and barbarians, that they should so misconstrue human motives and actions? Are they entirely lost to every instinct of humanity, and every appreciation of the beautiful and touching, that they snuff "disloyalty" in the garlands placed by ladies on the sod covering the bones of kindred and friends, and detect "treason" in a funeral dirge?

To such men, it would appear, the highest of crimes is that which affords a dead "rebel" sepulture. If there be a higher one, it is found in the act of a Southern mother in hanging a wreath upon the grave of her son.

It is quite possible that, despite these brutal taunts, the Southern women will continue to revere the memories of their dead friends. They will refuse to willingly allow their last resting places to remain unmarked and unhonored; and no amount of abuse, or falsehood, or slander, will change their determination in this respect.

BENJAMIN C. TRUMAN, Esq., of New York, deputed by the President to perform the duty, went to the cotton States about the 1st of September last, and remained in one or the other of them for more than seven months. He has made a long report of his observations and opinions, and stated his means of obtaining information. We cannot find room for the report, which would fill up a page of our paper. It is a candid and truthful account of what he saw and heard. He states that he visited all of the large and important cities of the South; made frequent stops upon many of the largest plantations; passed over nearly all the railroads; was upon all the navigable rivers; travelled more than seven hundred miles in stage coaches; called upon Federal officers without number, and Freedmen's Bureau commissioners; talked with at least one-third of the Confederate generals, numerous Southern politicians, large numbers of the people proper, clergymen, editors, and others; and while he does not believe that the Southern people are enthusiastically "patriotic," he has not a doubt that they are thoroughly "loyal." "It is," he says, "my belief that the South,—the great, substantial and prevailing element—is more loyal than it was at the end of the war—more loyal to-day than yesterday, and that it will be more loyal to-morrow than to-day."

"It would be almost impossible to present the numerous and scattered evidences upon which I base this belief; but I entertain it with all sincerity, and believe it to be consonant with the facts."

Forney and Gov. Holden.

In the Washington Chronicle of the 11th and 12th., Forney quotes largely from Ex-Provisional Gov. Holden, to the prejudice of the President and his policy of restoration. Forney has not been slow to perceive, what is now notorious in North Carolina, that Gov. Holden's sympathies are with the Radicals in their programme of proscription, disunion and ruin, and he commends him accordingly, as "a patriot honored by all true men."

Praise from Forney is damaging commendation, and the Ex-Governor may well exclaim, "Save me from my friends."

We shall pay our attention to the extracts from Forney's paper in due time

PARDONED.—We learn that John Williams, a freedman, convicted of the crime of burglary at the last term of the Superior Court of Law of Jones County, has been pardoned by the Governor. This exercise of executive clemency, on the part of his Excellency, was, we learn, based upon the united recommendations of the officers of the Court, and of the Counsel both for and against the prisoner.

NEW ORLEANS, May 10.—Judge Abell, of the First District Court, decided the civil rights bill to be unconstitutional, and not binding. The Court argues that the pesent Congress is unconstitutionally constituted.

WARREN, N. C.,

WHITE SULPHUR AND CHALYBEATE SPRINGS.

THE UNDERSIGNED has the satisfaction of announcing to the public, that he has leased these celebrated Springs, and that they will be opened for the reception of visitors on the first day of June ensuing.

His arrangements are of that complete and extensive character, that he will be able to accommodate a large number of guests and to offer greater attractions than usual to those who may visit

This pleasant and healthful resort.

No trouble or expense will be spared to render his patrons comfortable and satisfied.

The grounds are elegantly laid off, and the buildings are enlarged and improved.

He will have ICE, MILK, VEGETABLES, and all the substantials and delicacies of the table in profusion.

The bar will be supplied with the finest liquors, and a billiard saloon and bowling alley, for amusement and exercise, be at the disposal of visitors.

The Medicinal Properties

Of the Sulphur water have been amply tested during many years by a large number of visitors, and its beneficial results strikingly displayed in the cure or relief of Dyspepsia, Affections of the Liver, Jaundice, Diseases of the Skin, &c.

Another Spring has been discovered in the vicinity of the establishment, an accurate scientific analysis of which (given below) proves that it is a valuable Chalybeate. It is a mild and gentle tonic, and in the opinion of the physicians who have examined it, and witnessed its effects in some cases during several seasons must prove beneficial in Atonic Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Uterine Nervous and Neuralgic Affections connected with Debility; and of especial service to persons living in malarious regions of country, whose blood has been robbed of its normal proportion of iron by repeated attacks of malarial fevers.

Persons traveling on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad will always find a line of stages, under the management of Mr. Granger, ready for their accommodation at Warrenton Depot. There will be a daily mail from Warrenton to the Springs.

THE SENTINEL.

Tuesday, May 15, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Mrs. Daniel Du Pre will take a number of transient and monthly boarders. Mrs. Du P. has had a long experience in keeping a boarding-house, and will render guests comfortable, without doubt.

Davis & Jones announce other and desirable importations.

Pulliam, Jones & Co., make fresh announcements to the public.

The grand trade sale by B. P. Williamson & Co. is postponed until the 22nd. inst.

J. Brown, with Hart & Lewis, has a large lot of tin ware on hand.

THE IMMENSE CONCOURSE of our citizens which accompanied the remains of our late illustrious fellow-citizen, the Hon. George E. Badger, to their last resting place, on Sunday afternoon, testified to the strong hold which he had upon the veneration and affections of the community. The funeral exercises were of the most solemn and impressive character, and all seemed to realize the irreparable loss that society and the State have sustained in the death of this great and good man.

The burial service of the Episcopal Church was read by the Rev. Dr. R. S. Mason. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers upon the occasion, viz: His Excellency, Gov. Worth, Hons Thos. Bragg and John H. Bryan, and Geo. W. Mordecai, B. F Moore, R. W. Lassiter, H. W. Husted and Geo. Little, Esqrs.

LITERARY.—The Commencement exercises of Concord Female College, situated at Statesville, will take place on the 21st of June. The usual commencement sermon will be preached by Rev. D. A. Penick, and the Literary address for the occasion will be delivered by Hon. Z. B. Vance.

The Examination of the pupils of the Franklinton Academy will take place on Friday, June 1st. The Address to the students will be delivered by Seaton Gales, Esq., of this City.

THE 10TH OF MAY.—The ladies of Goldsboro' and Newbern commemorated the anniversary of the death of Jackson, by visiting the graves of the Confederate dead and decorating them with garlands and flowers.

MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The Secretary, Dr. Thomas, of Wilmington, gives notice that a meeting of this Society will be held in Raleigh, on Tuesday, the 5th prox., for the purpose of re-organization.

The only person we have seen since the surrender, whose voice is still for war, is a negro man we met with at Yanceyville last Tuesday, who waited on Capt. Henderson, of the 13th N. C. Regiment, while in the army. This boy wants to fight himself back into slavery. He is quite intelligent, and behaved well under fire.—Danville (Va.) Times.

KITTRELL'S SPRINGS.—We are glad to see that our old places of summer resort throughout Virginia and the whole South are again reviving. A correspondent has recently been at Kittrell's Springs, on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, North Carolina, and he speaks in high terms of the waters, scenery, society, &c. There is a female school in operation there, and the situation is said to be admirable for such an institution. Kittrell's Springs were noted for the hospital there during the war, and many a poor Confederate had his health restored or his last moments eased by the attentions that were so kindly bestowed upon him there.—Richmond Examiner.

CLEAVELAND COUNTY.—An esteemed correspondent, writing us from Shelby, gives us some items of interest and makes the following observations:

"This being Court week at Shelby, Judge Shipp presiding, quite a crowd of citizens are in attendance, looking after their judicial interests, and endeavoring to grasp in a little specie or greenbacks due them, so long withheld from them by the debtor party. But rest assured, if my observation is not greatly at fault, the needful article appears to be about as scarce as hen's teeth. I discovered but few eyes delighted and smiling over the coveted trash of earth.

The general cry is "hard times." Long faces, no money, little surplus produce, high prices; many running to and fro with empty carts and bags, trying to procure bread and meat to sustain life, while attempting to make a crop; children deprived of the blessings of the Common Schools, sauntering about in ignorance and contracting habits of vice; old men, worn out with many years of toil in raising the means of procuring servants to till their fields, now bending over the plough handles, while many of their emancipated negroes are loafing about from pillar to post, in rags and idleness, pilfering and stealing from the whites and spunging upon those of their own color who happen to have any thing to subsist upon. Then, in addition to all this, bad news from the radical Congress at Washington; all the time of that body taken up in attempting to force negro equality upon the white population of the South; proscription of Southern men by test oaths from any participation in the administration of the government; no Southern representatives to be admitted to seats in Congress until this nefarious business is consummated. Yet, in the meantime, high taxes are being collected from the pockets of the Southern people for the especial benefit of the Northern bond holders, who have become nabobs out of the profligate conduct of the war against the South, while Southern bondholders (many of them widows and orphans) have to submit to the suicidal pangs of repudiation and become poorer than "Job's turkey." If these things are indicative of hard times, then, indeed, our people can very consistently cry out, in every nook and corner, hard times.

The foregoing is no fancy picture or freak of the imagination, but true, every word true, and yet the worst has not been told. There are beings living amongst us in human form that glory in all this, (Southern radicals) who would be greatly edified at the impeachment of the President for his favorable course of reconstruction. Such characters would ignore all pardons granted by him, disfranchise all of those who participated in the rebellion, enforce the confiscation of rebel property, and hang as high as Haman all the prominent Southern leaders!

Let us, however, try to look out from the dark cloud hanging over us, and endeavor to see a ray of light in the distance. Let us not yet fully despair of the republic, while such a helmsman as Andrew Johnson clings to the deck of the ship.

In the approaching elections, I trust conservative men may be chosen to represent the interests of the people, both North and South, while Radicals North, and Radical sympathizers South, shall be rebuked at the ballot box, and be carefully laid away upon the shelf of forgetfulness."

MATRIMONIAL.—A correspondent of the Wilson Carolinian, writing from Wilmington, says:

"This happy month of May promises to be very prolific of marriages here. Matrimony is becoming decidedly popular. There is a social tumult on the subject. Madam Rumor, ever prating, puts the number of weddings on the tapis at fifteen,—whether exaggerated or not, I cannot say."

For the Sentinel

Spring, "Franklin Rifles," etc.

Beautiful Spring, enchanting Spring, with its hazy atmosphere, gentle zephyrs, sweet birds, sweet flowers, and genial rays is full upon us.—With what delight my eyes wander o'er our green hills, and moss-covered rocks, down to the river's edge, where bloom in beauty gay tinted flowers! I sit beneath this favourite tree, filled with pure white blossoms. Its fragrant leaves are showered upon me, as I listen to the hum of the murmuring bee, watch the distant labourer, and think of Him who shades so lovingly the beautiful sky, paints the violet and perfumes the breeze that fans my fevered brow.—And I think, too, of the loving care and protection which have shielded me in danger and sickness, and placed me amidst these most inviting scenes. Will my heart be more obdurate than the rill, the bird, the lily, and refuse praises to Him, "who doeth all things well?" "Bless the Lord, O, my soul! and all that is within me, bless his holy name." Thro' time and eternity may I be permitted to sing to Him, who is all truth, love and righteousness. * * * * *

* * * * * But, gentle reader, with feelings sombre and steps light, go with me to the cottage on the hill. Roses bloom in the yard, the sunshine plays at the door, but in the widow's heart, who sits within and plies her needle from "early morn till dewy eve," no flower blooms. At the earliest blast of the war-trumpet of 1861, her noble boy, responsive to his country's call, bared his bonnie bosom to the fatal ball of our common foe; now, he sleeps 'neath the shades of the village cemetery.

In the mansion in the grove, voices of happy children are heard and sounds of music float upon the air, but the father and mother are stricken with grief, for the loss of their two brave sons who fell, one at Brandy Station, the other at Gettysburg.

And where is our gallant townsman, young Tunstall? Where the brave Foster, Sykes, Massenburg, and others? Cruel, cruel war! answer where! And what of that noble band, the "Franklin Rifles?" Ere the smoke had risen o'er the hills of Bethel, or the shouts of victory resounded on the plains of Manassas, they left home and early scenes, to test their strength in defence of their land. We trace them along the bloody fields of Malvern Hill, Spottsylvania Courthouse, and the gory beds of Cold Harbor. Without shame or disgrace they sustained our hopes, and maintained their name throughout the war, and not 'till after the touching scene under the apple tree at Appomattox C. H., where bravery blushed not to weep, when chivalry was too wise to contend; not till after the surrender on the classic hills of old Guilford, did they return to loved ones at home. And who did return? A dismembered remnant of that happy band, with all the dust and marks of grim-visaged war upon them. Time may roll on its accustomed circle, the flowers of spring bloom and die, the snows of winter fall and melt away, but our hearts, for the noble dead of the "Franklin Rifles," will never cease to bleed.

"No more,—no more,—no more—
Mourn hearts, once gay and free!—
Shall bloom the thunder-blasted tree,
Or the stricken eagle soar."

But the same loving hand that paints the lily, perfumes the violet, blesses us with refreshing showers and golden sunshine, is the same hand that laid upon us this chastisement. "God maketh the wrath of man praise Him." It was not strength of arms that defeated us. It was Providence fulfilling the desires of Him "whose judgments are unsearchable, and whose ways past finding out." The sin of the war was not wholly the South's. The rod of correction fell heavily all over our fair land, regardless of latitude. And transatlantic shores even felt its shock. We emerged from the long dark night of bloodshed thickly studded with the honors of bravery and endurance. And of the glory which attaches to either contending party, I prefer that which hovers around the name of the "so called Confederacy."

LUCY LELLAND.

LOUISBURG, May 1st, 1866.

Radical Venom.

The recent speech of Mr. INGERSOLL, of Illinois, in the House of Representatives, having made him quite notorious, we give the following as a specimen and the reason for the notoriety:

"He considered the President a consummate demagogue—one of the worst demagogues in the country—and he thought that his recent speeches were quite enough to prove it. If the President found that he could not carry out the principles of the party which elected him, it was his duty to have resigned. It was too much to have the rinderpest, the trichina, cholera and ANDREW JOHNSON all in the same year."

Little, if any, less venomous was the language used by WILSON, of Massachusetts, in the Senate, Tuesday. We quote: "I believe, upon my conscience, (the President) has made more anxious nights, more troubled days, more bitter thoughts, more agony and sorrow of honest, conscientious, God-fearing men and women of our country than were ever made by any other man that ever lived. Upon my conscience, I say that I believe Mr. JOHNSON has had more thoughtful men and women bow their heads in anxiety and sorrow during the past year than did the rebel chiefs during their four years of fire and blood."

NEGRO INFANTICIDE has assumed in our city proportions which are alarming, and the scarcity of negro children is a subject which attracts the attention of every observant man. Of the number of infants thus destroyed we can only form an imperfect estimate by the number of bodies discovered, for the greater portion of the murders thus committed will probably never be revealed until the grave gives up its dead. But the number which are discovered disclose an amount of immorality and crime foul and unnatural, and forms a striking commentary at once upon the lack of maternal affection in the negro race, and the benefits resulting from emancipation. Prior to the close of the war such occurrences were rare, for the expense of maintaining and rearing negro children devolved upon the master, but now the infant is a burden, an expense and an incumbrance which prevents its pleasure-loving negro mother from figuring nightly in reel or rigadon at some Ethiopian frolic, and to rid themselves of an object for which they entertain none of the affection which is even among brutes an instinct, too many of them strangle their offspring or cast it out to die of exposure.—Rich. Whig.

GENERAL NEWS.

ANOTHER PROOF THAT 'THE BRAVEST ARE THE GENTLEST."—Mr. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, in reply to a bloody-thirsty Radical, made on Thursday the statement that some time ago measures had been taken to indict General Lee, and the subject had been referred to General Grant, who indignantly spurned the idea, as it was expressly provided that when the rebel armies surrendered that those composing them should not be molested so long as they obeyed the laws.

A special despatch from Washington to the New York Evening Post states that President Johnson has written a veto message on the admission of Colorado, but has not yet sent it to Congress.

Important Fenian movements on the Northern frontiers are said to be in contemplation now that Head Center Stephens has arrived. There was some excitement at Buffalo in consequence of the receipt of a despatch from New York city, stating that General Meade had been ordered to Buffalo with a considerable number of United States troops. The United States steamer Michigan has also been ordered to remain at that port.

Stevens, in his speech on the Reconstruction Amendment, bore down quite severely on Sumner, for his impracticable course on a former question. Sumner's retort is expected, and may be looked for as soon as he has had time to stuff it sufficiently with turgid pedantries, and practice it before the glass. These men would immortalize themselves, as patriots, and delight an applauding country, if they would perform the game of the Kilkenny cats.

The spring election in West Virginia will be held on the twentieth of this month, when a Constitutional amendment disfranchising voluntary "rebels," so-called, will be voted upon.

Prentice speaks of a brawling Kentuckian, who was bragging about how "loyal" he felt, and who being asked what he meant by it replied: "I feel as if I sh'd like to shoot sumbody and steal sumthin."

The intention of bringing Mr. Davis to trial on the charge of alleged complicity in the assassination plot, has, it is said, been abandoned, and the report about the "important testimony" that was to convict him having been "abstracted" from the War Department is supposed to be a very clever method for letting the charge drop.

The amateurs of Columbia, S. C., have held a brilliant Concert, the object of which was to aid the re-building of a beloved Church, reduced to ashes by the vandalism of Sherman's army.

The action of the House of Representatives on Thursday on the Constitutional Amendment, reported by Stevens' committee, shows that Stevens is still monarch of all he surveys. He cracked his whip, and his party did his work according to order, and up to time. He ordered them to take the vote at three o'clock, and they responded as a sailor responds to the order of the mate, "three o'clock, it is, sir!"

A COLORED SOUTHERN SOLDIER.—Among the many collections of flowers which were sent to the Richmond Blues, Thursday, was a wreath which attracted considerable attention as coming from Mrs. Judith C. Judah (colored.) It was accompanied by the following feeling and pathetic letter:

"RICHMOND, VA., May 10, 1866.

"Captain C. P. Bigger:

"SIR—I send you my willing contribution of flowers as an offering to the gallant dead of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, of which my husband was once musician, and who fell in the service. I hope they all sleep sweetly 'across the river under the shade of trees,' to rise again at another trumpet, as lovely and fresh as these flowers, to flourish forever in the mansions of the blessed.

"Ever gratefully remembering the Blues to me and mine, I remain, respectfully,

"JUDITH C. JUDAH."

Generals Steedman and Fullerton, the commissioners appointed to investigate the workings of the Freedmen's Bureau through the Southern States, have made a report of their observations in Virginia and North Carolina. The statements made from time to time by our correspondent, travelling with the commissioners, are fully corroborated by this report, and the outrages perpetrated by the agents of the Bureau in North Carolina are freely ventilated and justly censured. A recommendation is made in the report for the removal of the present officers of the Bureau from those States, and the transfer of the duties to the officer commanding troops in the State, as the agents have but little to do, all cases for trial or adjustment having been turned over to the civil courts.—N. Y. Herald, 12th.

The constitutional amendment thus rushed through the House has now to pass the ordeal of the Senate. In that body it may, perhaps, succeed, and it may be doomed to a failure. But if it pass the Senate, and if the two bills follow, there yet remains an appeal to the people, and in this appeal we shall rely upon the patriotism of the people to save the government as it stands—a government of the people—and to stop our fanatical reformers of Congress in their revolutionary schemes.—N. Y. Herald.

An Extraordinary Statement in Regard to Rheumatism and Pleurisy.

Peter Vaden, Esq., Dinwiddie county, Va., (Nov. 6, 1865) says: "In August 1857, my wife, aged 40 years, was taken ill with what the doctor called a Bilious Rheumatism affecting her whole system; rendering her entirely helpless, so much so, that she had to be lifted and fed as an infant, for the pace of three months, suffering the most excruciating pain; her limbs drawn out of shape and stiff, so that she could not use them. After all other remedies failed, in January 1858, I was advised to get the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS for her. She used the Pills strictly according to the directions accompanying them, and we soon discovered a change for the better, and in one month's using she was well, and continued so up to the present time; has become fleshy, cheerful, and as active as one could be of her age. One of my servants was taken with a violent attack of Bilious Pleurisy. I gave him those Pills, and in about ten days he was up and at his work; said that he felt as well as he ever did, and has continued well ever since.—Another was taken with Pleurisy. I gave the Pills, and she was well and at her work in ten days after she commenced using them. My Doctor's bill has been heretofore from $75 to 200 per year. I have used them in my family, which consists of eighteen white and colored, and have not called in a doctor during the year. This is a great saying. They certainly are the best family medicine ever discovered. After a fair trial I can recommend them as such."

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his ex raordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the so called remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrœa Pills cure where all others fail. Wide for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts, and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 41 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

A BOON TO THE SICK AND THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS AND SALVE.

These Life-giving remedies are now given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

LIFE-GIVING PILLS!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering and re invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A VERY FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state.—To the young and middle-aged they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce de Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to vigor and make youth ever

An Eternal Spring!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream and show in one glorious fact, that magic that it fair.

THESE FAMOUS REMEDIES

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then but seize the favorable opportunity the offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil!

☞ Its Effect is Miraculous. ☜

IT is an entirely new scientific discovery, combining many of the most powerful and restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom.

We have such confidence in its merits, and are sure it will do all we claim for it that we offer if the Sicilian Hair Renewer does not give satisfaction in all cases when used in strict accordance with our instructions.

$1,000 REWARD

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

has proved itself to be the most perfect preparation for the Hair ever offered to the public.

It is a vegetable compound and contains no injurious properties whatever.

It is not a Dye, it strikes at the roots and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter.

It will restore Gray Hair to its original Color.

It will keep the Hair from falling out.

It cleanses the scalp, and makes the Hair soft, lustrous and silken.

It is a splendid Hair-Dressing.

No person, old or young, should fail to use it.

It is recommended and used by the first Medical authority.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

When corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or Kings' Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayers Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

COTTON GINS,

MANUFACTURED BY

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,

COLUMBUS, GA.

WE have received the manufacture of Cotton Gins to this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore, represented by traveling agents, parties wishing our Gins, will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand, we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash, our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivaled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power, to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

Messrs. DEROSSET & CO., Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.

Columbus, Ga., April 24 '66.

We will give prompt attention to orders for the above celebrated Gins from any part of the State. The price is five dollars ($5) per Saw at the Factory, and five dollars for each Gin will only be charged to purchasers for transportation to this point.

1866. SPRING TRADE. 1866.

IN OPENING THE

SPRING TRADE,

I would return my most grateful thanks to the citizens of Petersburg and the surrounding country for the very liberal patronage extended the past season, and hope to merit its further continuance by holding out still further inducements.

My present facilities are beyond doubt unequalled, and no effort will be spared to place before our patrons Goods that the present market value will admit of, and in many instances much below, as we are constantly represented at the large auction sales, where goods are frequently sold much less than cost of importation. These, with

Many Other Available Facilities,

I pledge myself to use to the best interest of our customers.

The stock is now much larger and better assorted than at any time previous, having added a complete assortment of

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

Among them the most elegant

Satin Damask,
Lace and Muslin Curtains,
Wine Cloths,
Piano and Table Covers,
Stair Linen,
Linen Druggets,
Table Linen,

—ALSO—

WHITE GOODS,

Of which I have always kept a good stock, is now replete with everything the market affords. Besides, a very handsome stock of

Needlework,
Edgings, Insertings,
Laces and Embroideries.

THE STOCK OF

LADIES' DRESS GOODS,

Must be seen to be appreciated. I therefore invite all to an inspection, and in entering so well for the ladies, I would assure the gentlemen they have not been forgotten. The assortment of

Cloths,

—AND—

Furnishing Goods Generally,

Is complete, and it is hoped those in want of goods of this class will not fail to give us a call.

To the Merchants of Virginia and North Carolina, who have so liberally patronized us the past season, I return my most grateful thanks, and solicit an early call, assuring them they will find our goods at as low prices as any house North or South.

THOMAS SMITH,
25 Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va.

I have secured the Agency for the States of Virginia and North Carolina, for the sale of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.

It is undoubtedly the best Family Sewing Machine in existence.

Read the following recommendations:

1st.

Its Simplicity and Great Range of Work.

2nd.

Its making four different Stitches, viz: Lock, Knot Double Lock, Double Knot.

3rd.

The Reverse Feed Motion, operated by simply turning a thumb screw, enabling the operator to run the work to the right or to the left, and convenience of self-fastening the ends of seams.

4th.

The Perfect Finish and substantial manner in which the machine is made.

5th.

The Rapidity of its Working, and the quality of the work done.

6th.

Its Self-Adjusting Tension.

It makes the Celebrated Elastic Stitch.

To the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and State and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi Weekly Line of Steamships, between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore Philadelphia, and other ports in the United States and for different ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight, or on any other business, will be promptly answered

THE WATCHMAN,

AN AMERICAN FAMILY JOURNAL

OF

Literature, and News, Independent in Politics and Religion.

Office, No. 119 Nassau Street, N. Y.

It is a large quarto of eight pages, with six columns to the page, elegantly printed on heavy white paper.

You ought to subscribe for THE WATCHMAN:

1. Because in its Religious Department there is no Sectarianism.
2. Because in its Literary Department there is no Immorality.
3. Because in its Political Department there is no Partisanship.
4. Because in its News Department there is no Partiality.
5. Because many of the best minds in America are liberally employed upon its columns.
6. Because it gives the latest Ecclesiastical Intelligence, Catholic and Protestant, Foreign and Domestic.
7. Because it gives a synopsis of all the important doings of Congress, together with General News.
8. Because it gives the latest reliable Reports of the Markets.
9. Because it gives full Reports of important Lectures and Discourses.
10. Because it has something for Scholars and Plain People, for Artists and Farmers, for Statesmen and Mechanics, for Women and Children, for Saints and Sinners.
11. Because it is a fearless independent Journal of Progress, belonging to no Party, no Sect, no Church, no Clique, no Section—but to the Whole Country and all its People.
12. Because where a family can take only one paper, it is designed to make this come nearer supplying all its wants than any other Journal in America.
